Little Girl Still Under Treatment For Lye Burns

Mary-Ann, the 2½-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Olson of Vulcan, is still in grave condition in the General hospital, Calgary, as a result of lye burns suffered on May 30, 1959.

Since entering the General on July 10 she has had four operations on her windpipe and six blood transfusions. Two abscesses in her windpipe have been drained and tubes are continually draining infection from her chest cavity. Milk, eggnog and vitamins are fed her through a tube in her stomach, as she is not yet allowed to take anything by mouth.

Since Mary-Ann entered the General she has also suffered a bout of pneumonia and still has some effects from it. Constrictions from the lye burns were closing up the lower end of her windpipe. Prior to entering the General she was in the Crippled Children's Hospital for three and a half weeks. Should the last operation performed on Aug. 1 prove completely successful, the remaining constrictions in her throat have to be dilated. However, her condition is not very favorable and it will be months before this can be done.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Olson extend best wishes for the early and complete recovery of their little daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cutforth, Melbourne Dunham of Calgary spent the weekend at the home of his parents.

Duck Numbers Down; Bag Limit and Season Reduced

Bag limits on ducks in Alberta are reduced this year as the direct result of a diminished wildfowl population, the Canadian Wildlife Service announced last week.

The duck population has declined so much this year as the result of the drying up of their breeding grounds that some curtailment of duck hunting is essential for good hunting in the future.

The new migratory bird regulations for Alberta reduce the daily bag limit from 10 to seven and the possession limit from 40 to 21.

Services Held At United Church For Harold King

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Donald Sharpe at the Vulcan United Church on Friday, August 14, 1959, for Harold Errett King, aged 46, who died in Col. Belcher hospital, Calgary, following a lengthy illness.

Born in Field, B.C., he came to Vulcan with his parents in 1918 and received his schooling here. During the Second World War he served with the 31st Reconnaissance Regiment. Following his discharge in 1944 he returned to Vulcan, where he was associated with his father, Errett King, in the drug business. Following his father's death in 1956 he operated the drug store for a year before retiring due to ill health. He was a member of the War Amputations Society and of the Alberta Provincial Rifle Association.

Surviving are his wife, Marguerite; three sons, Bryan, James and Desmond; and his mother, Mrs. Errett King, all of Vulcan.

Pall bearers were Clifford McAskill, Albert Collier, Robert Munro, John Jamison, Chester Rea and Boyd McKay.

Jacques Funeral Home of Calgary and the Vulcan Funeral Home were in charge of arrangements and interment was made in the Vulcan cemetery.

New Radio Station At Lethbridge

Preparations are being made for the opening of radio CHEC in Lethbridge are rapidly being completed, with the official opening of Southern Alberta's newest radio station slated for the last week of August. At that time invitations will be extended to residents of the South to tour the ultra-modern CHEC studios.

Powered at 5,000 watts, Radio CHEC is featured at 1090 on the dial.

By utilizing FM (Frequency Modulation, as well as the standard AM broadcast signal, CHEC Radio will be offering a much better quality sound than is otherwise available. FM is noise free, as the frequency at which it is transmitted is not susceptible to man-made or nature-made noises.

Any noise present is above the frequency that the human ear can detect. In addition to the "quality-controlled" music to be high-lighted a full range of news, weather and sports services are included in the schedules. Children's programs, a CHEC Teen Club and other such specialized features have also been planned to offer as complete a service as possible.

Such familiar air personalities as Don Slade, Jim Waddell and Larry Arcand have joined the staff of Radio CHEC and, in addition to other featured radio personnel, will cover every important phase of local happenings in providing service plus entertainment for the residents of the South.

ALGAE CONTROL

Algae, that greenish or red scum often seen in water troughs, sloughs and ponds can be quite easily controlled by several methods. Two chemicals which have been found very effective in reducing the growth of algae are bluestone (copper sulfate) and bleaching powder (chloride of lime). Growth can also be prevented or greatly reduced in water tanks by suspending pieces of sheet copper in the water. Since green algae cannot grow without sunlight covering the top of the water tank or container is another good preventative measure.

Every year a certain number of animals die in this province from algae poisoning, says Dr. J. G. O'Donoghue, Extension Veterinarian for the Alberta Department of Agriculture. When using bluestone to eliminate it, care should be taken to use the amount specified, since bluestone is poisonous when taken in any considerable quantity. However, if mixed in the proper proportions, 17 grains to 1,000 gallons of water, it is harmless to both stock and humans. When bleaching powder is used it should be added to the water at the rate of two ounces per 1,000 gallons. After treatment the water may have a slight taste but the chemical is harmless when used in the proportions recommended, says Dr. O'Donoghue.

Elks Take Lead In Baseball Playoffs

Vulcan Elks took a one game lead in the finals of the Foothills Wheatbelt playdowns here last Thursday night when darkness halted play half-way through the ninth inning with Elks leading Lomond 14-9.

The large attending crowd was treated to exciting baseball which saw Lomond start like underdogs with a big run deficit to face, and whittle the Elks' lead inning by inning until they caught them in the eighth. They were partly responsible for their own downfall in the top of the ninth when they almost threw the game away with bad field strategy and two hit batters, costing them five runs.

At the end of four innings, Lomond had fallen behind by an 8-1 count and replaced Huff on the mound with Degenstein. Pitching for Vulcan, Warnick had a good game going for himself until the latter stages, when Lomond began hitting sharp, well-placed one base hits through the infield and with the assist of a few Vulcan errors caught up to the Elks with a 9-9 score.

In the top of the ninth Warnick got to first base and on an over-throw on a pickoff attempt and another wild throw to third, he scored. Then, with men on bases, Lomond's Degenstein hit two batters in a row, filling the bases. Jordan came to the plate and hit a long ball which scored three runs, although he was caught going to third base. The score stood at 14-9 for Vulcan when the umpire called the game because of darkness.

Golfers Compete At Nanton

A total of 50 Vulcan golfers attended the first day's play of the Foothills Golf Tournament at Nanton on Sunday. Qualifying rounds were played, followed by the first matches in every flight. Second and third round matches will be played next Sunday, also at Nanton.

Thelma Haverly was the only Vulcan lady to make the ladies' championship flight and she also won her first match to enter the semi-finals.

Rav Wellman and Ron Buehler qualified for the men's championship flight, with Wellman winning his first match and Buehler losing. Gordon Stauffer of Turner Valley and Rav Wellman were low qualifiers with 35.

Joe Boutland and Ron Miller represented Vulcan at the Ashdown's Juvenile Golf Tournament in Calgary last week and both were flight winners.

Joe Boutland won a wrist watch by coping the tenth flight, while Ron Miller won a basketball by winning flight 13. A total of 148 boys took part in the tourney, which was a wonderful experience for all and gave them a taste of competition.

Shot of the week honors at the Vulcan Golf & Country Club must go to John Jamison, who holed out his second shot on the 380 yard third for an eagle two.

Twenty-four ladies took part in the Royal Purple golf tournament at the Vulcan course last week and though the prize list wasn't available a number of the ladies should receive a prize for effort alone.

Action Expected Soon In Natural Gas Hassle

Natural gas service will be available to residents of Champion, Carmangay and Barons about the first of September, Harry M. Hunter, general manager of Canadian Western Natural Gas Company Ltd. told the Advocate this week.

Mr. Hunter said that good progress had been made in completing the installation of transmission lines to serve these communities and the distribution lines and other work within the municipalities.

At present, gas company crews are in the final stages of testing the lines and installing the required equipment for regulating gas pressures.

Asked about gas service for the town of Vulcan, Mr. Hunter said he was unable to say how soon service would be provided as this requires action by Central Gas Utilities (Vulcan) Ltd.

"We are ready to proceed immediately, but so far Central Gas has not lived up to its agreement to sell the Vulcan plant to Canadian Western. While we have been pressing them for action, we are unable to say when matters will be concluded," he said.

Mr. Hunter said that in building the transmission line to Champion this summer the company had continued the line to the edge of Vulcan. When service for other communities is completed, natural gas book.

For a trip to the mountains, the bride donned a blue moire ensemble and wore a corsage of red roses. The young couple will make their home in Lethbridge.

will be at the town's outskirts. Service will then be available to Vulcan with a minimum of delay once arrangements can be completed with Central.

Mayor William Munro of Vulcan, accompanied by Councillor W. H. Richardson and town solicitor J. M. Jamison, interviewed members of the Board of Public Utility Commissioners and officials of the Canadian Western Natural Gas Company last week.

Central Gas Utilities (Vulcan) Ltd., which has not lived up to its agreement to sell its Vulcan distribution lines and other assets to Canadian Western, has been notified that the Town of Vulcan will not consider transferring Canadian Western's Vulcan franchise for the distribution of natural gas to the Central Gas company.

A complete breakdown of negotiations with Central Gas might make it necessary for Canadian Western to install its own distribution system in Vulcan, however uneconomic this might be in view of the fact that much of the town is already serviced with gas distribution lines. A complete, new distribution system would take about three weeks to complete.

Meanwhile, many town homeowners have installed new gas furnaces and, with cooler weather rapidly approaching, time is becoming an important element.

Further developments are expected within the next week and if no action is forthcoming the Town will take up the matter directly with the Premier of the province.

Hilz - Rose Wedding Rites

The Evangelical United Brethren White of the R.C.M.P. from Blairmore and Victor Deal were ushers.

The soloist, Mrs. Mary Jane Hilz sang "O Perfect Love" and the wedding music was played by the groom's sister, Miss Violet Hilz.

The bridegroom's mother chose for the occasion, a dress of dusty rose crepe complemented by white accessories.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the I.O.O.F. hall which was prettily decorated with summer flowers, pink and white streamers and wedding bells. The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. J. H. Deans and telegrams were read from the bride's parents and friends in England.

For the wedding trip the bride wore a blue silk sheath dress with matching jacket, grey and pale pink accessories and a corsage of white gardenias.

The young couple are taking up residence on a farm near Vulcan.

Prescription For Publicity

What form of publicity provides the greatest benefit to a town? We think the answer lies with the business and professional men.

If people get good treatment and good service at what they consider to be fair prices, they will throng to that town.

On the other hand if people are shabbily treated and are not provided with a wide range of services at reasonable prices they will avoid that town.

The enterprising spirit of business and professional men also helps in a town's growth. We see evidence of this in our own town through the activity of service clubs, lodges and other civic groups.

A town should have good churches which contribute to the religious life of a wider community.

A town should have good schools for the training and educating of children. Such is a matter of major importance.

Cultural life should not be neglected; neither should sports and entertainment. Such activities round out a town's contribution to a much enlarged population.

There are other factors which tend to develop a town. One of them, we meekly observe, is a good newspaper.

Safety Pays Off

The nation's "blue ribbon" drivers can expect a big drop in passenger automobile insurance premiums on policies issued Sept. 1, reports The Financial Post.

Canadian Underwriters' Association have announced that its member auto-insurers will offer a 20% discount on normal premiums to motorists who, because of their driving records and relatively restricted exposure to accident danger, can qualify for the new A1 select rating category.

A1 select is a further subdivision of the present A1 category which applies to motorist with three years of accident free driving.

Dear Editor:

May I use this column to clear up a misunderstanding?

My child was one of the many in Vulcan High School this past term whose marks were not very creditable.

I was under the impression that a pupil receiving a "C" in any subject was required to repeat that subject. On the basis of several "C's" it looked as if next year was going to be a mess so I called on the person I felt was best qualified to tell me just what subjects my child could take next term. I learned that not all "C's" have to be repeated and in our case only one subject was affected although there were certain other limitations which do not have any bearing here.

I was grateful to Mr. Schrag for taking time to clear up my misunderstanding and said so in conversation to friends. I was shocked recently to learn that Mr. Schrag now is accused of adjusting the marks of my child and of certain others to permit them to go ahead next year.

It is not the first time the truth has been distorted and, unfortunately, probably won't be the last. We who are adults learn to take it. The reason I am so anxious to set this matter straight now is that there must be a number of boys and girls who are unhappy and resentful over this supposed favoritism. Conditions in our high school are bad enough without making them worse and I have no reason to believe that Mr. Schrag would or could manipulate anybody's marks.

Thank you, Mr. Editor, for allowing me the opportunity to straighten this matter out.

CBC GIVE-AWAYS

There are some good shows on CBC-TV — but there ought to be! They are spending your money and mine like inebriated seamen in a foreign port. To make matters worse, they are giving big advertisers a cheap ride on the national networks, largely at the expense of weekly newspapers, private stations, billboards and other media.

CBC imports from 50% to 60% of its TV shows, getting them for free, sometimes getting paid for carrying them. Yet expenses for the year ending March 31, 1958, were over $58,000,000! This is about eleven million more than the Fowler Commission estimated so generously. If they keep increasing expenses at the rate they are going, CBC will be spending $150,000,000 by 1961. It would be almost impossible, even for dunderheads, not to produce two or three good shows with that kind of money.

Now hold onto your hats! The Fowler Report tells us that, "Of the cost of sponsored programs of $211,942, CBC recovered from sponsors $166,155.00 (exclusive of charges for station time or network distribution) equivalent to about 55% of cost."

How in heaven's name can the weekly papers compete for advertising with a government agency that is collecting from advertisers only 55% of the actual cost of producing programs? And further, collecting only part of its costs of producing commercials? And why should you and I be paying any part of the advertiser's costs?

I am a great admirer of the General Motors organization, but I am not willing to pay for part of their TV dramas. Particularly when so many of their dramas bore me to tears! CBC may reply that GM plays the whole shot for their TV Theatre — but when they refuse to list the sponsors that get a special price, we don't know.

Why does CBC's costly Press & Information Department (they spent over a million themselves last year) refuse to publish a list of the advertisers who pay the full cost? Surely we are entitled to know what sponsors are being given a break at our expense?

Perhaps the parliamentary inquiry committee now in session will secure such information for us. It's the least they can do!

Construction costs of Alberta's 67-mile section of four lane divided highway between Red Deer and Calgary averaged slightly in excess of $200,000 per mile.

The Northwest Pickup

It's smart business to spend a few hours investigating pick-ups and then buy the best. Stop and think about it — doesn't the efficiency of your combine depend on the ability of your pick-up to feed it? Won't a bunching or erratic pick-up neutralize your trucks, your help, your combine — every bit of money and muscle you invest in the harvest? Then the finest pick-up you can buy will also be the most economical.

The Northwest Special has proved its superiority, season after season, in the toughest conditions.

On a par with the big new combines in massiveness, stamina, and life, it is guaranteed to reduce down time to the irreducible minimum. It absolutely will not pick up stones, big or little. In fact, experience shows that not only does it keep the big stones out of your combine, but it can eliminate gravel dockage entirely. And at the same time, actual figures show that it picks up as much as 15% more bushels to the acre, while maintenance costs are proving by far the lowest of any.

This is the really up-to-date PICK-UP, for those who know and want the best!

MADE HONORARY CHIEFTAINS of the Saulteaux Tribe at Indian Head, Sask., July 18, were Leslie E. Barber, left, Chilliwack, B.C., Progress publisher and Hugh E. McCormick of the Montreal Monitor at an impressive pow-wow during the fortieth annual convention of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association. Mr. Barber succeeds Mr. McCormick as president of the 725-member association. An honor bestowed infrequently on "white men" by this particular branch of the Cree Nation, this was viewed by the 400 delegates to the convention as a fine tribute to the understanding attitude of Canada's country editors toward Canadian Indians. Mr. Barber assumes the name of a 90-year-old Indian, Waglah Doupe, and becomes Chief Four Thunder. Mr. McCormick, as Chief Eagle Born, is known to the tribe as Chief Keno Kahnitowiket.

Liquid or Crystals

PERFECT PEACH JAM

4 cups prepared fruit
(about 2 quarts ripe peaches)
¼ cup lemon juice (2 lemons)
7½ cups (3¼ lbs.) sugar
1 bottle Certo fruit pectin

How to prepare fruit. Peel and pit about 2 quarts fully ripe peaches. Grind or chop very fine. Measure 4 cups into a very large saucepan. Add ¼ cup lemon juice.

How to make the jam. Add sugar to fruit in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat, bring to full rolling boil. Boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Stir in Certo at once. Skim off foam with metal spoon. Stir and skim for 5 minutes to cool slightly, and to prevent floating fruit. Ladle into glasses. Cover at once with ¼ inch hot paraffin. Makes about 11 medium glasses.

in the heart of London city.
Mid the dwelling of the poor,
These bright golden words were uttered:
I have Christ! What want I more?

Spoken by a lonely woman,
Dying on a garret floor,
Having not one earthly comfort:
I have Christ! What want I more?

Look away from earth's attractions,
All its joys will soon be o'er;
Trust Him now, and say with gladness:
I have Christ! What want I more?

Jesus said unto them, I am the bread of life; he that cometh to me shall never hunger; and he that believeth on me shall never thirst. John 6:35.

EULOGY OF THE D'OG

Gentlemen of the jury, the best friend a man has in this world may turn against him and become his enemy. His son or daughter who he has reared with loving care may prove ungrateful. Those who are nearest and dearest to us—those whom we trust with our happiness and our good name—may become traitors to their faith. The money that a man has he may lose. It flies away from him, perhaps when he needs it most. A man's reputation may be sacrificed in a moment of ill-considered action. The people who are prone to fall on their knees to do us honor when success is with us may be the first to throw the stone of malice when failure settles its cloud upon our heads. The one absolute, unselfish friend that man can have in this selfish world—the one that never deserts him, the one that never proves ungrateful or treacherous—is his dog.

Gentlemen of the jury, a man's dog stands by him in prosperity and in poverty, in health and in sickness. He will sleep on the cold ground, where the wintry winds blow and the snow drives fiercely, if only he can be near his master's side. He will kiss the hand that has no food to offer, he will lick the wounds and sores that come in encounter with the roughness of the world. He guards the sleep of his pauper master as if he were a prince. When all other friends desert, he remains. When riches take wings and reputation falls to pieces he is as constant in his love as the sun in its journey through the heavens. If fortune drives the master forth an outcast in the world, friendless and homeless, the faithful dog asks no higher privilege than that of accompanying him to guard against danger, to fight against his enemies. And when the last scene of all comes, and death takes the master in its embrace, and his body is laid away in the cold ground, no matter if all other friends pursue their way, there by his graveside will the noble dog be found, his head between his paws, his eyes sad but open in alert watchfulness, faithful and true even to death.
